

Diagram for Player Direction State

The player sprite changes the render direction according to input, and stays in the position until new input is given

